

IT Security Assessment Complimentary Evaluation

About All Covered

All Covered is here to support your unique computing, networking, and security needs. Serving thousands of companies across every major industry, we help clients achieve their business objectives by lowering the cost and maximizing the performance of their IT systems.

Without a proper evaluation of the technology and security environment that a business deploys for their IT infrastructure, any security solution can fail. The IT Security Assessment is designed as a first step when you just don't know where to start. The ultimate goal is to securely operate your network, improve performance, and make sure that you're focused on your core business rather than worrying if your computers have been compromised or not.

What Should I Expect During the IT Security Assessment?

An All Covered systems engineer will come to your office, perform a check of your network and ask you a series of questions. A few days later, the engineer will provide a printed summary report and recommendations based on the findings.

Why would you want to have the IT Security Assessment?

- It allows you to see an overview of the security of your data, computers and network.
- Points to weaknesses and areas of exposure in the IT environment.
- Recommends steps to keep your network safe and to minimize risks to your business.
